ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES
OF THE
NEW YORK SOCIETY LIBRARY,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1868.

It having been established by a permanent standing rule of this Corporation that the Trustees thereof shall lay before the members of this Society at their Annual General Meeting in each year "a Report on the affairs and state of the Institution," this Report is accordingly submitted in obedience to the rule.

The Trustees in their last Annual Report stated at large the application of the Board to the Legislature for an amendment to their Charter, allowing an increase, within fixed limits, of the annual dues then paid by Shareholders, to a rate proportional to the cost of books and the general augmentation of prices as to everything required for the ordinary support of the Institution on its present scale; also the opposition of some of the Corporators to the proposed measure; the action of the Legislature in granting the relief petitioned for; the approval at the General Annual Meeting of the Corporators, and the acceptance of the amendment, with the re-election of the former Board, together with their action in accordance with the resolution of the General Meeting, authorizing them in their discretion to exercise all the powers conferred upon them in the late Act of the Legislature.

This augmentation of the dues has since enabled the Trustees to continue the establishment on its former footing without contracting debt, and also to make some much-needed improvements.

During the fiscal year just expiring very few of the Shareholders have hesitated to make the required payment. The receipts for the year amount to $9,651.90, from the following sources:

The Total expenses of the year amounted to... $9,553 37

Balance on hand... $98 53

Of this sum expended $2,020.83 was for the purchase of books; the rest was chiefly spent in items of unavoidable necessity for the support and use of the Library (as is fully set forth in the accounts stated in the Treasurer's Report, herewith submitted), besides the sum of $1,520.75 expended in repairs of the Library building. The greater part of this sum was absorbed by renewing, painting, and improving the Reading Room, which is now a spacious, light, and elegant apartment, exceedingly well adapted to its purposes.

All the bills for ordinary purposes at maturity have been paid off, the temporary advances made by the Treasurer have been refunded in full, and the real estate owned and occupied by this Corporation is wholly unencumbered by any mortgage or other permanent debt.

Should the immediate neighborhood become, as it now promises to be, a place of business, the grounds and building of the Library will be in demand, and it may soon become expedient to sell them at a liberal advance upon their original cost, and to look for some new convenient location.

During the year from the date of the last Annual Report of the Trustees of this Corporation in March 31, 1867, to the date of the present Report in April, 1868, the Library has received many valuable donations in books and pamphlets. By far the largest and most valuable of these gifts was the remarkable one of Robert Lenox Kennedy, who has been for several years past a Trustee of the New York Society Library. This liberal donation consists of about eighteen hundred and fifty volumes, being the greater part of the Circulating Library of the late James Hammond, of Newport, R. I. It is a very curious memorial of the taste, manners, and lighter literature of the country from the period of 1783 until about or near 1830. Newport in those days was, as it still is, a resort during the warm season of the most refined, wealthy, and cultivated society of the whole of this country; and this circulating library was long the chief resort of that society for lighter literature; for the valuable Redwood Public Library was then almost exclusively devoted to works of reference and authority.

This circulating library contained the works of light reading at the time in most demand, including the numerous novels from the then fashionable Minerva Press in London, most of which have now passed away and are forgotten, although a few of them are by authors, like Mrs. Radcliffe, of great power and originality. It also contains not a few original works by American authors, now rarely to be found, as well as others, equally scarce, by foreign authors who wrote on this country, or concerning our affairs, in those times.

The collection is also remarkable on another account, as showing the progress and mutation of the publishing business in this country, for many of the volumes were printed at places, most of them then small villages, from which, though those have now grown with the increase of the country in wealth and population, and afford large markets for the best literature, the publishing business has wholly died out, it being absorbed by our great cities.

Another valuable gift of books during the last fiscal year also demands special notice. Oliver Bronson, M.D., for many years a Corporator of this Institution, gave to it during the last year three hundred and thirty-one volumes of standard books of medical science, all of them the best editions, and well bound. As this gentleman had within the two or three years preceding presented the library with about one hundred volumes of excellent works of foreign literature, with some of physical science, he deserves to be remembered among the benefactors of this Institution, which unfortunately, during its many years of great public usefulness, has received few similar testimonials of individual gratitude.

Besides these two large donations, above seventy volumes have been received from the following donors:—

Rev. S. D. Alexander, D.D.; Edmund Bill, Esq.; Orison Blunt, Esq.; Chas. Conoit, Esq.; Alex. Delmar, Esq.; Dr. Elysworth Elliot; Dr. S. W. Francis; Miss Margaret Inglis; Prof. L. Languedier; Ferdinand Lawrence, Esq.; Hon. W. McMurray; Dr. J. C. Peters; Hon. H. J. Raymond; Hon. Thos. E. Stewart; J. A. Stevens, Esq.; Gideon J. Tucker, Esq.; Hon. W. M. Tweed; Dr. Governor Smith; Hon. G. C. Verplanck, and others.

In addition to these gifts, 121 pamphlets have been received from various persons. These have been carefully arranged, and added to the curious and useful collections which have been gradually formed in this Library during many years, and now consist of files of newspapers, many of an early date, and all conveniently bound; journals of public and of ecclesiastical bodies, sermons, political and other tracts. The whole is now conveniently arranged for consultation, and its utility is constantly proved by frequent reference for public journals or historical inquiries.

The number of volumes, exclusive of pamphlets, added to the Library during the last fiscal year, is as follows:

Not including the 1,849 volumes presented by Robert Lenox Kennedy, Esq.

The number of volumes added by purchase was 845
" " binding " 102
" " donation " 425

Total .............................. 1372

The whole Library now contains about 57,000 volumes, many of great cost and value.
